Testimony of Mayor Hylan Now Undergoes Strict Scrutiny.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—What is regarded as the "turning point" in the sweeping investigations now being conducted into the building graft problem will take place tomorrow when Senator Charles C. Lockwood, head of the joint legislative committee, conducting the investigation, and other members, appear before the Supreme Court to show cause why a subpoens issued for the apwhy a subpoena issued for the ap-pearance of Miss Elizabeth O'Dea of the Builders' Supply Bureau, should not be vacated.

Senator Lockwood regards the court action as a direct challenge to his committee, which if successful, will block the entire proceedings until the motion can be argued and passed upon by the Supreme Court of the United States.

Tomorrow Corporation Counsel John P. O'Brien will start his inquiry into various city contracts, as ordered by the Board of Estimate. Aldermanic President LaGuarda and Borough President Curran will try to have other counsel appointed.

Hylan Story Examined.

Samuel Untermyer, conusel for the Lockwood committee today is examining the testimony of Mayor Hylan and is considering submitting it to the grand jury when it is called. Mr. Untermyer is reported to be examining the testimony of the mayor closely with a view of ascertaining whether the number of times. taining whether the number of times he met Robert P. Brindell, indicted head of the Building Trades Council. and John T. Hettrick, who detected and John T. Hettrick, who detected to the builders' "code of practice" corresponds with other information in possession of the comfittee.

Mr. Untermyer is reported to be specially anxious to know wha Mr. Untermyer is reported to especially anxious to know what preceded the Hettrick memoranda of February 8, 1919 which Hettrick sent to the mayor and which the mayor sent to the board of education recommending a change in continuous commending a change in continuous co tion recommending a change in co struction from terra cotta to lim

O'Dea Case History. In the O'Dea matter the order to show cause was obtained before Sushow cause was obtained before Supreme Court Justice Gelgerich by Martin Conboy, of the firm of Griggs. Baldwin and Conboy, representing John A. McCarthy, a contractor, with whom Tammany Leader Charles F. Murphy is alleged to have been associated in business up to a year and six months ago.

Miss O'Dea was summoned before the committee as secretary and the committee as secretary and treasurer of the organization to produce certain books and papers. In the application to be argued, Mr. Conboy based his plea on the ground that Miss O'Dea is not an officer but the second and the sec officer, but is a paid employe, and that this method of obtaining the books is not legal and constitutes unusual search and seizure without due process of law and is a viola-tion of the State and Federal constitution.

The Lockwood committee intends to continue the probe into build-ing affairs at its hearing on Tues-day and Wednesday of this week.
